The Magic Coin

Hollie Griffiths, Age 8, Oaklands Primary School, Aberaman, Aberdare

I was on my walk on a windy day. The wind was whistling through the trees with an orange glow because of the leaves. I lived in Aberaman in a terraced house and I could smell the coal smoke coming from a couple of chimneys. As I strolled along, I saw a coin, but it was not a normal coin. I was trying to keep a straight face but, on the inside, I was so excited. It had Queen Victoria's face on, and the date was 1865. Then my head felt weird. I was spinning and spinning. Then I hit the ground. I did not know where I was.

I got slowly up. I looked around and I saw the houses but now every one of them had smoke coming out of the chimney. The shops were different, and it smelled of coal. So, I went to have a look about the village. A girl walked up to me and said,
"Hello, my name is Abby Williams." Abby was wearing a very weird dress. She had blue eyes and she told me she was a thruster and she was on her way to work. I went with her to her house before work. Her house was small and cold. She lived with her mother and father and two sisters. Abby said something exciting,
"Do you want to come down the mine?"
"Yes," I said.
"I am saving for a Cambrian lamp."
So, I went down the pit and Abby told me all about the danger of methane. The fire man came to do his daily check.
"It is ok now," he said. Then we went on down the pit. Abby showed me how to work as a thruster. The work was hard and dusty. After the long, hard day, I went back to Abby's house and had a tin bath in front of the fire. Then I realised I had earned enough to help Abby with a Cambrian lamp. So, I went to the lamp shop with her to choose a Cambrian lamp and gave my earnings to pay for the shiny new lamp.

I gave the magic coin to Abby and said,
"Take good care of it."
"I will do everything with it," Abby said. She visited the shop with the coin and bought many Cambrian lamps for the other miners to keep safe. I suddenly started to spin and spin. I was back and now there was no steam coming out of the chimney. The houses were the same. I was back.
