The magic coin

One Sunday morning I was going on a walk to the old Railway again. I could hear birds singing there was different colour leaves (green, brown, orange, yellow and red) falling of the tree. I could smell smoke coming from people's chimney's. When I got half way there was a coin not just any normal coin it was muddy, blue and wet. I was on my way home and there came a lot of fog. I got lost and the coin started glowing. I was wearing shorts and a t-shirt cause when I started the walk it was hot but know it's cold and I'm freezing. I couldn't find my way home. The coin flew out of my hand and rolled away. Then it was sunny and back to normal I wasn't cold anymore. I got home and my mam said " where were you? I got worried". "sorry I got lost" I answered. I couldn't really say what happened otherwise she would be even more worried. I opened my bedroom window and a bird (robin) into my room and onto my bed with the coin in its mouth and put it on my bed. Then I swear it to me. It said, "keep this coin you are the believer". I got my dogs (Max, Charlie and daisy) and went to investigate the place I found it (a tree).

I brought my dogs because they have a good sent of smell. As soon as I got there I had pictures in my head there was the railway and the hayfield I don't know why. I stayed until it got dark. When I was about to go to bed I felt good on the outside but weird on the inside like butterflies.

I woke up and I wasn't in my house I was in an old terrorist house it looked like a house from the Victorian's because my nan showed me pictures. The coin was on a desk beside my mattress (I woke up in a mattress). I got out of bed/mattress and there was a little village outside. I went outside into the village. I saw a man with a candle on his head and a lunch box. He didn't look at me or answer back I think he ignored me. I saw a bunch of women speaking I said good morning, but they ignored me to. I was starting to think I was a ghost from the future like that Christmas film with the guy that says humbug. I passed a field with adults and children working there was a haystack. When I walked past a man shouted, "hey boy get back to work!". "Me?" I asked. "Yes, you get over here!!!" he shouted. So, I ran over there I stayed for about 2 hours and then was able to sneak out. I passed the railway I always walk down and again someone called me, so I ran away. Then I fell don a mine luckily a man caught me.

His name was Daniel Thomas he said, “hey little guy what are you doing why are you not doing your job or in uniform?”

“Uh I was running a bit late and I had a lie in and when I woke up, I was wearing this, and I was rushing so I came in this” I said. So, I went to work in the afternoon I overheard him speaking to one of his friends he said, “I really need a Cambrian lamp the candle keeps burning me so I’m trying to save up”. I thought I could drop the magic coin on his doorstep but then I remembered I have no clue where it is. When we had lunch, I sat by him he didn’t say anything to me though about 5 hours later it was the end of the day. I climbed up the ladder as fast as I could looked in the trees, I looked in the terrorist house I looked in the trees and bushes but I still couldn’t find it. All of a sudden, the mud on the floor started glowing it was the coin it was muddy and wet just when I was going to Daniel’s I didn’t know where he lived. Then he just walked past me I followed him without him knowing when he went in, I knocked the door and put the coin on the floor. He picked it up and said “this should be enough” then he went to the lamp shop it took him about half an hour to choose he eventually because one it was a silver handle gold everywhere else and see through glass to put the candle in. When he gave the coin, it glowed I was going to sneak in to get it because I thought I was meant to keep it he was right by the coin. So, I went on a walk. I met people called the mud larks and my favourite was Dylan. I went back about quarter an hour later and he wasn’t by the coin so when he wasn’t looking I snook in and stole the coin he shouted, “hey you what do you think you’re doing I’ll call the coppers!”. Just when I was about to run away, I was lying in my bed in my house. I didn’t know if it was a dream or not, I had pictures on my desk of everyone I met. My mam said those pictures my nan shows me is just a bunch of nonsense. I was just happy to be home.
